MEDLINE with Full Text provides full-text access to over 1,300 journals, with over 540 full text titles that can only be found in MEDLINE.

The Search Process

☑ Step 1

MEDLINE starts on a basic search screen.

To apply search options or limiters, click Advanced Search. Once on the Advanced Search screen, scroll down to Limit your results.

☑ Step 2

To limit the results to Evidence-Based Medicine articles, under Publication Type select:

- Clinical Trial
- Comparative Study
- Controlled Clinical Trial
- Evaluation Studies
- Guideline
- Meta-Analysis
- Multicenter Study
- Practice Guideline
- Randomized Controlled Trial
- Review
- Twin Study
- Validation Studies

(Use Ctrl or Cmd to select multiple publication types at once)

☑ Step 3

To limit Publication Date, put the preferred date range under Published Date.

This will search for articles published within the specified time frame.

☑ Step 4

To limit results to Nursing Journals, select Nursing under Journal & Citation Subset.

Step 5
Click on the title of an article to view the Detailed Record including: author information, abstract, publication type, and specific journal information.

All information required for the citation can be found in the Detailed Record.

Step 6
MEDLINE catalogs articles and journals from across the globe.

Verify a study or article’s country of origin by checking the Country of Publication under Journal Info in the Detailed Record.

Notes
MEDLINE considers over 90% of their journals to be peer reviewed, so no limiter is provided. To confirm if an article is Peer Reviewed, check the individual journal’s editorial process. The peer review criteria and reviewer or referee qualifications vary depending on the journal.

Checking the EBSCO Full Text only box ensures that the returned results only include full text articles. Checking this box is optional. If you find an article that does not have full text availability, contact a Reference Librarian.

DO NOT check EBM Reviews. This only searches six specific qualifiers, not the entire database, limiting the results too much.

If you need to edit your search limiters, click on Show More, under Refine Results, to open a Search Options box. This allows you to narrow or expand your current search without having to start over.
